Mini Gold and Silver Futures
now on NYSE Liffe

NYSE Euronext has purchased CBOT's precious metals complex from the CME Group. These contracts serve as the foundation for the creation of a new US futures exchange, NYSE Liffe. This new exchange enables NYSE Euronext to leverage Liffe's global distribution network, leading edge technology and broad range of risk management products for the benefit of its diverse customer base. The addition of these contracts complements the existing derivatives business of the NYSE Euronext group, which includes a broad range of equity, financial and commodity products.

NYSE Liffe will continue to leverage the existing functionality and distribution of LIFFE CONNECT® 9.0 for launch, and plans to upgrade its trading platform in the near future to LIFFE CONNECT® 10, providing a significant capacity and performance uplift.

CME will continue to clear the precious metals contracts on an interim basis.
