

Date: January 5, 2009

Audience: NYSE Equities Traders, NYSE Arca Equities Traders

Subject: U.S. Equities Newsletter – Volume 2

Summary:

Welcome to the second addition of the U.S. Equities newsletter, a publication presented to you by NYSE Euronext. This month's newsletter includes the following topics:

- The Amex acquisition and transition
- An introduction to our latest innovation, The New York Block Exchange (NYBX)
- The availability of intra-day matching on NYSE MatchPoint
- The expansion of NYSE Arca Auctions to include ETFs and ETNs
- The introduction of TradeCheck in Europe
- Three new order types: PO+ (for NYSE Arca customers) and the Minimum Display and Non-Displayed Reserve orders (for NYSE customers)

Whether it's enhancements to existing trading technology, new order types, changes to our market structure or new market data products, you can find it here.

In addition, included is "Street Sense" a regular feature offering the trading community an opportunity to share their perspectives. In this issue, read what Daniel O'Donnell of Bank of America had to say when we sat down with him to discuss recent enhancements at the NYSE. A webcast can also be viewed by visiting: www.nyse.com/streetsense.

If you have questions regarding NYSE Euronext U.S. cash products or suggestions for future editions of the newsletter please contact your Relationship Manager.
